

STIJN ANK °1977 (BE)

Stijn Ank lives and works between different locations with an important anchorage in the outskirts of Brussels.

A repetitive subject in the many sculptures that make Stijn Ank his work, is the insufficiency, the hesitation, or even the inability of us humans to fully grasp and understand life.

Being human implies an inevitable confrontation with existential extremes. We are only a small part of a whole, a whole that we can hardly imagine. At times we long to escape the limitations of our bodies and wish to re-insert ourselves into that wider universe from which we were separated at birth. Ank's work is a gateway to partake in this mystery.

Through a bodily intuitive process, sculptures are brought into being by pouring pigmented plaster into a never-ending, changing mold. The use of pouring plaster as a means of extending the process and a search for reconciling states of liquidity and solidity. An imperfect and incomplete body of work that is ever in construction and at the same time in decay; evolving, decomposing, and rising again.

His sculptures go hand in hand with similar questions to those found in the periods of archaic cultures, which also moved in a kind of blindness, communicating different understandings of the body in space.

Elusive sculptures that can accompany us in an elusive life.

Works are exhibited and acquired by collectors and museums worldwide, such as: Kunsthau Lempertz, Brussels (2024); Le Musée du Louvre, Paris (2022); Academia Belgica, Rome (2020); Club Solo & Vanabbemuseum, Breda (2019); MoCA Museum, Taipei (2017); Künstlerhaus Bethanien, Berlin (2017); Forum d'Art Contemporain, Luxembourg (2014); S.M.A.K., Ghent (2012)
